Regardless, I did some preliminary design work for the project. I wanted to try creating some building "landmarks" in the form of a pre-furnished apartment building with a façade of brickwork similar to that which can be seen in the photos. I also wanted to have a parking garage with individual spaces for each apartment. Over the past decade, I've been learning a lot about the material selection and wood-working processes used to build residential high-rises. I'd like to learn more about building the staircases, railings, etc. and how to prepare the "layout area" for construction. Regardless, I did some preliminary design work for the project.
